

30 March 2010

Earlier this month, Dennis heard Jeremiah shared a short story about flying some national pastors and translators into an airstrip that had not had a missionary airplane land there for two years. When a neighboring chief heard that some missionaries were there he walked two hours early one morning and asked to have his photo taken with the pilot. He then asked him to take the photo back to his chief (mission leaders) and tell them that his people (language group) were waiting for someone to come and give them God's Word in their language. That happened two years ago and these people are still waiting. Thank you for being on the team that is helping give God's written Word to the millions of people still waiting to hear. There are still over 2,200 languages in our world that do not have any scripture and this chief and his people are one of them.

During the month of March and half of April I am administering standardized testing for homeschoolers to meet the laws of North Carolina. This week the group was large with 32 children. Other testing is done in small groups or individually. As I looked around the room I realized that these children have lived in the Philippines, Indonesia, Cameroun, Papua New Guinea, Guatemala, Niger, Peru, Eurasia, Congo, and the Pacific area. Thank you for ministering in their lives.

Until all hear,
Dennis and Patti

Jeremiah Deidrich is one of our furloughing pilots from Brazil. Dennis and I met Jeremiah while he was still in high school and encouraged him to follow God's call on his life. You have had a part in Jeremiah's life through his joining Wycliffe, getting his training, and now obtaining his recurrency training.
