175 hours of maintenance instruction, 120 take offs and landings, two pilots/mechanics, two aviation mechanics, and many JAARS training staff investing time and talent into the lives of these young people; these are some of the major components of a successful 14 week aviation orientation. Last week's orientation graduation moved them one step closer to service in Southeast Asia, Cameroon, and Kenya. Thank you for the investment you have made in their training through your faithfulness. You continue to be central in our ministry through your prayers.

Last night, we were working on our website <http://www.wysite.org/sites/garretson> (Please take a look at our site and let us know how we can make it better.) I took a quick look at the JAARS website for some information I needed. I was thrilled to see that the "Tutoring and Curriculum for Dyslexics" was listed there. <http://www.jaars.org/projects/s5790>. Just this past week, I have had two families talk to me about the struggles their children are having with reading. It will be wonderful to have the staff, curriculum, and training to help them. Thank you for praying this project into reality.

"After this I looked and there were before me a great multitude that no one could count from every nation, tribe, people, and language standing before the throne and in front of the Lamb." Rev 7:9

Praise to the Lamb,
